DETAILED ACTION

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 32-40, 43, and 48-52, drawn to a method of producing lipid vesicles comprising culturing functionalized lymphocytes, or lymphocytes containing a recombinant nucleic acid molecule.

Group II, claims 32-39, 41-47, and 49-52, drawn to a method of producing lipid vesicles comprising collecting vesicles from a culture of T lymphocytes and functionalizing said vesicles by direct or chimeric loading.

Group III, claims 53-54 and 61-62, drawn to compositions comprising membrane vesicles.

Group IV, claims 55-56 and 58-59, drawn to a method of stimulating an immune response in a subject comprising administering a composition comprising membrane vesicles, and in vivo methods of stimulating cells or delivering molecules to cells.

Group V, claims 57-59, drawn to in vitro or ex-vivo methods comprising contacting cells with a composition comprising vesicles.

Group VI, claim 60, drawn to a method of characterizing a preparation of vesicles.

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicant is further required to elect:

Art Unit: 1644

a specific type of T lymphocyte, such as one of those listed in claim 38 (if group I or II is elected), a method of functionalizing vesicles from the group consisting of direct loading of vesicles or chimeric loading of vesicles (if group II is elected), a specific method of activating T cells such as one of those listed in claims 34-35 (if group I or II is elected), and list all Claims readable thereon including those subsequently added. Currently claims 32-37, 39-52 are generic with respect to a T lymphocyte, claims 32-39, 43-44, and 49-52 are generic with respect a method functionalizing the vesicles, and claim 33 is generic with respect to a method of activating T cells.

5. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

6. The inventions listed as Groups I-VI and the species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reason:

The invention of Groups I, III-IV, and VI have no special technical feature that defines the contribution over the prior art of Masson et al., 1985.

Masson et al. teach a method for producing cytolytic granules (i.e. membrane vesicles, see page 3535 in particular) comprising culturing T cell lines or T cell hybridomas (i.e. T cells that have been "functionalized" to express a particular TCR), followed by purifying the granules (see page 2537 in particular). Furthermore, Masson et al. teach a method of inducing an immune response comprising administering a composition comprising the granules (i.e. a pharmaceutical composition, see page 2538 in particular). Masson et al. also teach absorbing the granules onto a grid and assessing the granules for the presence of polyperforin complexes on the surface (see Fig. 3 and page 2538 in particular).

7. Since Applicant's inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have a single general inventive concept and so lack unity of invention.

8. Accordingly, Groups I-VI are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept and restriction is proper.

9. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
